The farmhouse with the reception and restaurant was completed back in 1913. Numerous implements, lovingly arranged as decoration, are reminiscent of the pioneering days of farming. Hearty game dishes and scrumptious side dishes for the buffet are conjured up in the kitchen. Continue your journey towards the small settlement of Betta. From Betta you can take an optional extra excursion to the Historical Duwisieb Castle. Duwisieb Castle is situated amongst red hills and is a solid rectangular structure of red sandstone with battlements and turrets on its corners. Built by the legendary Baron von Wolf for his American wife, the castle was completed in 1909. Most of the construction materials, including the furniture and fittings, were shipped all the way from Germany, off-loaded at Lüderitz and transported to Duwisieb by ox wagon. Today the interior of the castle and much of its original furniture and artworks, including firearms dating back to the 18th and 19th centuries can be viewed. Continue on through the southern Namib Desert to Desert Homestead for overnight in an en-suite room on a dinner, bed and breakfast basis. Situated 25km from Sesriem, the Lodge is at the junction of the C19 and the D854 roads. Having two organic vegetable gardens, the chefs are really spoilt in terms of choices when deciding on the day's menu. The Lodge prides itself on the wholesome and fresh cuisine. Meals are enjoyed on the front veranda, where hurricane lanterns set the mood. There's a lot to do in the area: hot-air ballooning, scenic flights, hiking in the Naukluff Mountains, guided Sossusvlei Excursions and, of course, horse riding. Gigantic star-shaped mountains of sand, the highest estimated at 325 metres high. The warm tints of the sand, ranging from pale apricot to brick orange and deep red, contrast vividly with the dazzling white surfaces of the deflationary clay pans at some of their bases.

Your overnight accommodation will be at the Desert Homestead on a dinner, bed and breakfast basis only.
